Trigger Point Chart

Information
Name:	Contact:
Practitioner:	Date:
Reason for visit:

Physical examination

Use the diagram below to mark areas of pain, tenderness, or weakness identified during the examination. Common trigger points, indicated by red dots, can be used as a reference for assessment.

Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent Latent	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent Latent Active Latent	ldentified trigger point(s)	Classification	Remarks
Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent	Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent	Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent	Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent	Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent	Active Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent Active Latent		Active
Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent Latent	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent	Latent Active Latent Active	Latent Active Latent Active Latent Latent		Latent
Active Latent Active Latent Latent	Active Latent Active Latent Latent	Active Latent Active Latent Latent	Active Latent Active Latent	Active Latent Active Latent	Active Latent Active Latent		Active
Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent	Latent Active Latent		Latent
Active Latent	Active Latent	Active Latent	Active Latent	Active Latent	Active Latent		Active
Latent	Latent	Latent	Latent	Latent	Latent		Latent Active
additional notes	Additional notes	dditional notes	dditional notes	Additional notes	Additional notes		Latent
						Additional notes		